Extend your project workforce and delivery capability leveraging our experience, methods and resource

Project Recruitment & Contracting

Our specialist resourcing practice focuses on project roles to provide a unique and refreshingly new recruitment service.

We offer a customer-orientated and flexible service that is tailored to meet your needs.

Our approach is based upon developing a true understanding of your business, creating a trusted relationship and establishing a long term partnership by delivering value. Roles include:

- Business Analysts
- Project Managers
- Project Coordinators/Administrators
- Project Engineers
- Project Directors
- Project Management Office Staff
- Business Process Re-engineers
- Change Managers
- Program Managers/Directors

Extended Workforce

Project staff can also be provided on a flexible basis to optimise your resource base in the face of fluctuating demands. This saves investment in permanent or long-term contract staff while retaining the comfort of working regularly with the same individuals when demand requires it.

Turnkey Project Delivery

For years organisations have struggled to deliver effective projects on-time and within budget. But with today's challenges to achieve more with less, organisations have to justify, plan, monitor and control their projects and programs more closely than ever before.

The accidental project manager can be a very expensive way of executing key initiatives. Organisations can no longer count on having the right people with the right experience using the right approach available at all times. In order to stay competitive and effectively deliver on strategy, many organisations work with PM-Partners as an external project management partner to offer significant value to their business.

This service places the end-to-end responsibility of running key projects with PM-Partners professionals.

Outsourced PMO

Project Management is PM-Partners' core business. Many of our clients choose to focus on their core business by using PM-Partners to direct, manage, regulate and deliver their project portfolio. PM-Partners provide a PMO structure and the necessary know-how and manpower to ensure successful delivery of your portfolio.

"PM-Partners continue to perform an integral role and have added substantial value to the operation of our core business. I would recommend them to any organisation requiring assistance with any aspect of project management and service delivery."

PM-Partners Client

The right people, with the right knowledge, using the right tools

The projects that truly define a company do more than just put out fires. They are forward-thinking, bold and meet core business objectives through decisive action.

Serious projects present risks, but promise greater rewards. The PMPartners group can help you maximise returns and minimise risks with a relentless approach to project management and disciplined command of knowledge, people and tools. The result is increased control, greater speed and the ability to drive significant change.

> People

Whether using PM-Partners adaptive framework, or leveraging a client's methodology our structured processes enable smooth planning and management of complex projects from concept to completion.

From planning, control, risk, issue and change management, to resource allocation and progress tracking, PM-Partners will understand your needs and then align the most appropriate solution.

Benefits

PM-Partners Project Delivery Services provide the following benefits to our clients:

- The service provides access to an organisation that is at the forefront of project "thought leadership" through PM-Partners education and delivery for global organisations.
- The need to identify the correct skills, knowledge and experience, to interview and ensure the required background, experience and qualification of the staff is mitigated due to PM-Partners assuming this responsibility at no charge.
- Accelerates client staff skill development as they work with PM-Partners professionals.
- The highest value is realised from the development of a mutual long-term relationship. To achieve this PM-Partners invest in adjusting to the needs of the client organisation, respect and accommodate the company's unique culture and have a track record of going the extra mile in order to get the project done.
- We provide our clients with visibility and control at the enterprise, program and project levels via governance, custom reporting and alignment of performance to objectives.
- We don't have ongoing functional responsibilities or promotional pressures within your organisation so we focus on the project and get things done more quickly without distractions or competing priorities.
- We manage projects without challenging the current political structure, and therefore obtain cooperation and consensus more readily in many circumstances.
- As a valued client of PM-Partners, clients gain access to our senior management for periodic discussions regarding organisational situations and possible solutions. PM-Partners Consultancy Services will be available at special rates.
